

A Discourse of Matters Pertaining to Religion (Classic Reprint)

Nearly half a century has passed since Theodore Parker died in Italy, to whose sunny climate he had been exiled in the fond expectation that it would restore him to health, and assure an early resumption of his activities as a public teacher and reformer. This hope was sadly disappointed. The inroads made upon his constitution by his prodigious labors as scholar, preacher, lecturer, and social reformer precluded his recovery. In his fiftieth year, at the height of his reputation and power, he was called away from the circle of his friends and the large sphere of influence he had created for himself in American life and religion, to enter that invisible country, that eternal life, in which he so profoundly believed, and which he had sought by cogent argument and eloquent appeal to make more real to his fellow-men. Theodore Parker, the man and minister, was laid away in the little Protestant cemetery in Florence. But Theodore Parker as an inspiring and ethical force lives to-day is more than ever alive in the thought, aims, and institutions of his beloved America. He had spoken prophetically when he said on his death-bed, There are two Theodore Parkers; one is dying here in Italy. The other I have planted in America. He will live and continue my work.(Typographical errors above are due to OCR software and dont occur in the book.)About the Publisher Forgotten Books is a publisher of historical writings, such as: Philosophy, Classics, Science, Religion, History, Folklore and Mythology.Forgotten Books Classic Reprint Series utilizes the latest technology to regenerate facsimiles of historically important writings.
